

The Cre-Attitudes:

Beatific Affirmations for the Creative Spirit

Blessed are we who bring forth the musings of our spirits, hearts and hands, for we add much needed joy to this world.

When at times we might forget how needy others are for our offerings, and even take our gifts for granted,

Help us to remember that each time we create, we share a bit of the divine, that divine which was given so freely to us.

Blessed are we who have known sorrow and heartache and depression; these things in our pasts give us true empathy for those who need our work the very most.

Help us to be good to ourselves, and to be kind to our dreams and our hopes.

Let us not forget that we were chosen; that we were touched. No one can do what we do, in the way that we do it.

Let us be truly thankful.

Blessed are we who allow ourselves the time that we need to learn, to reflect and to grow.

Help us to not compare ourselves to others, and to remember that all masterpieces take time.

Blessed are we who seek ways to give back to the world, and to share our gifts freely, being not concerned solely with profit.

Help us to recognize our joy, and celebrate with our communities.

Let us share our passions with our children, teaching them the joy of creating, and remembering the art of play.

Blessed are we who quietly create, for the love of the process and the need to explore.

And equally blessed are we who learn boldness; finding a way to earn our living with our gifts.

Help us to connect with those clients who need us, and who appreciate and value our labors.

And help us to walk away from those who would take us for granted or diminish us in any way.

Grant us the creativity in our income and the agility in our communications, to keep us well fed and prosperous.

Blessed are we who cherish those things cast-off, and who revel as we unveil their beauty to the world.

Help us to love the earth always, treating her as our Mother, and take care with the products and materials we put to use.

Blessed are we who define our niche, and share our exhilaration in our true calling.

Yet, neither let us create solely for the sake of the sale; art without heart is like a life without intention.

Let everything we do be a reflection of the divine.

Bless us as we learn to take risks, and to trust.

Remind us that we are enough; that “we can”.

Bless us as we stumble and fall, and get up again, and stumble some more. Keep us from knowing what it is to become placid and filled with entitlement.

Bless us as we reach out to those just learning to say,
“I am an artist...a writer...a...”

Keep us looking ever ahead and ever upward.

Keep us thankful.

Keep us real.

Keep us.

Blessings on you, and all that you create.

Nancy Vittoria Bello,

Copyright May 2005